Q1- Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions.

The Tiger, one of the world's most iconic and recognizable animals, is in danger. The tiger population has decreased by over 30% in just the past decade, largely due to deforestation and poaching for their valuable fur skins. This decline may have serious consequences not only for tigers but also for other wildlife populations that rely on them as predators or prey. Tigers are endemic to Asia and Southeast Asia, with an estimated 3,900 remaining in the wild today (down from 10,000 a century ago). With so few tigers left in the wild and increasing demand for their skins, pelts, bones etc., it is essential that we do all we can to safeguard this magnificent animal.

Questions of passage:

1. What is one of the world's most iconic and recognisable animals?
2. How much has the tiger population decreased in the past decade?
